Gaziantep city

The magical stop of historical Silk Road, the masterly spirit of Turkey. Gaziantep is one of the great melting pots of civilization, so it isn't a surprise that this city features incredible traditions, stunning history and so much more. It is the sixth largest Turkish city, one of the oldest settlements in Anatolia, located in Southeastern region of Turkey. Gaziantep is a city with roots going back more than ten thousand years. For centuries Gaziantep has become a meeting place for the naturalists, historians, archaeologists, enthusiasts of adventure and for the ones who are in love with art, devotee of nature and wanderers of cultural values. It is particularly well-known throughout Turkey for its excellent pistachios and rich gastronomy. Its gastronomic connections to the ancient past have contributed much to the formation of the city's cultural identity.
